Paul was a radical visionary. The letters of Paul in the New Testament were written by three authors, all writing in the name of Paul. There is the "reactionary Paul," the "conservative Paul" and the Paul of Tarsus who had a compelling and life changing encounter with the Risen Lord - the "radical Paul."

This seminar will explore the three Pauls and help us understand how the radical message of the gospel got domesticated in the first 50 years after Jesus' death. Marcus Borg and Dom Crossan will lead this four-day seminar. Add this seminar to their previous seminars on Jesus and the Bible, and Mysticism you will be given a full view of what it means to be Christian in the 21st Century.
